WHAT TO DO?

The purpose of the conference is practical. We want to come up with actions that we can pursue, now.

Ecosocialism links an awareness of the ecological system on which we all depend to the need for social justice. The world's current political & economic set-up is destroying our ecosystem and impoverishing the majority of people.

What should we do to build a bigger and broader ecosocialist movement. In the trade unions? Parties? Communities? NGOs? The wider left? Environmentalists who are not socialist? The government? How do we create change?

The format of the day will be:

- a brief introductory plenary session
- morning workshops on five themes to produce action proposals
- afternoon workshops on the same five themes, ditto
- closing plenary discussion of suggested actions

WORKSHOPS

- building an economy for the 99%
- local actions in the community
- climate change and extreme energy
- democracy: what is it, how should it work, how to use it
- towards an ecosocialist society
